

This is a digital copy of a book that was preserved for generations on library shelves before it was carefully scanned by Google as part of a project to make the world's books discoverable online.

It has survived long enough for the copyright to expire and the book to enter the public domain. A public domain book is one that was never subject to copyright or whose legal copyright term has expired. Whether a book is in the public domain may vary country to country. Public domain books are our gateways to the past, representing a wealth of history, culture and knowledge that's often difficult to discover.

Marks, notations and other marginalia present in the original volume will appear in this file - a reminder of this book's long journey from the publisher to a library and finally to you.

Introduction.

No extended introduction to Volume III. would seem to be necessary. Having already compiled and recently published Volume I., containing the Genealogy of my own Line of New England Harwoods, and Volume II., of the Salem Harwoods, we come now to the third great Branch of Harwoods in New England, the Concord Family.

As long ago as 1837, Mrs. Sarah (Harwood) Robinson, of Bennington, Vt., compiled and published a "Genealogical History of Robinsons, Saffords, Harwoods and Clarks"—all families from whom she descended or was in some way related. Her records of Harwoods were mostly confined to the Bennington branch of the Concord Family. Her work was an excellent one—and seems to us the more so when we consider the difficulties which attended genealogical research in that early day.

Myron W. Harwood, of Enfield and Boston, Mass., spent half of his lifetime compiling the records of the New England Harwoods, and intended for a long time to publish the result of his researches. But old age came on, and finally his death was hastened by an accident. His records were not given to others for publication, and it would seem that the result of nearly all of his hard work in this line has been lost to the world.

Fred H. Harwood, of Chicago, spent several years in compiling the records of the Concord Harwoods, and had a well arranged Genealogy of this Branch nearly ready for the printer. But being engaged in large business undertakings, and perhaps not meeting with the encouragement his work deserved, he let it rest till finally he abandoned his plan of publication. He has most generously placed all of his records at the disposal of the writer, and the entire Family will benefit from his work.

Another who gave much intelligent study to the genealogy of the Concord Harwoods was the late Herbert Joseph Harwood, Esq., of Littleton, Mass.

It remains only for me, then, to arrange and edit this volume, rather than to make it, as was Vol. 1., the work of my lifetime, the materials for which I obtained almost altogether from original sources.

It will of course be unnecessary for me to reproduce in each volume the chapters in Vol. I., on the "Origin of our Family and Name," "Crests and Coats of Arms," and the short chapter on "The Harwood Families of Virginia and Maryland." Most of the Harwoods will wish to possess all three volumes.

With this Introduction, I place before my many friends of our name, Vol. III., trusting it may greatly interest and please them, and preserve for all time to come the history of the Concord Harwoods.

WATSON H. HARWOOD.

CHASM FALLS, (MALONE), N. Y., 1912.

First Generation.

JOHN HARWOOD was a citizen of London, England, and belonged to a family that it would appear had long been settled in London. It is thought that he never came to America, or if he came, returned later to England and died in London. There was a John Harwood who with Dorothy, his wife, was a resident of London at that time. His will was dated Feb. 16, 1653, and proved Feb. 8, 1654, showing that he died between the two dates. In the will he mentions only two sons, Nathaniel and John, and a daughter Anne. His wife Dorothy, proved the will and had under it a tenement in Cranley, Surrey. We have not, of course, positive proof that John Harwood, who was father to the brothers and sister who settled in New England, was the same as the one who died in 1654, but it seems very probable that he was the same, as the time and place and names all favor such a conclusion.

Second Generation.

Children of JOHN HARWOOD, No. 1. All born probably in London.

2. JOHN, came from England to Boston, Mass., in 1645. He was made freeman in 1649. He was admitted to the Church in Boston, Dec. 25, 1647. He sold his property in Boston in 1657, and returned to England, where he continued the merchantile business in London. He was living in Bethnal Green, a suburb of London, in 1665. He still owned land in Dunstable, New England, which was sold by his heirs long after his decease. He died about 1685, as is shown by his will made Nov. 13, 1684, and proved June 22, 1685. His wife did not long survive him, as her will was proved in 1687.

3. THOMAS, born in 1623. He came to New England. Married, RACHEL WOODWARD, widow of Robert Woodward, and daughter of John Smith, July 7, 1654. They resided in Boston, where he died Jan. 5, 1706.

He died Sept. 17, 1740, his wife Oct. 8, 1747.

21. NATHANIEL, born Oct. 1, 1669. He married MARY BARRON, daughter of Moses Barron, and they made their residence in Chelmsford, Mass. In 1732, Nathaniel and Mary made over their landed property to their son Jonathan on these conditions: "They were to have the best room in the now dwelling house, with the best chamber, and a good, convenient cellar, without any let, stint, or hindrance. And deed not to take place 'till their, the said Nathaniel and Mary Harwood's decease." Nathaniel Additional.

Concerning the Crest and Coat of Arms which appear as the frontispiece in each of these three volumes of New England Harwood Genealogy: the Crest—a Stag's Head holding in its mouth an oak branch—surmounting the Original Coat of Arms, is not in keeping with correct heraldic laws. The ancient crest was an Eagle's Head. But the design as we now have it is a combination of the ancient Saxon Coat of Arms and the Crest used in later centuries by certain lines of Harwoods in the Mother Country. And representative members of all three of the New England Branches of Harwoods, have, after due consideration of the matter, decided to adopt this design as our common Family Emblem for all time to come.

We are indebted to Ethan A. Harwood, Esq., and his sister, Mrs. Frances A. Cummings, of North Brookfield, Mass., for the inserts which form the frontispiece in this volume. I am sure everyone will be grateful to them for having our beautiful Family Emblem which is used as the frontispiece in Vols. I. and II., appear also in this volume.

Besides the Harwoods mentioned in the body of this work as soldiers in the Revolution, the following Concord Harwoods saw service in the war for American Independence: James, No. 62; Nathaniel, No. 65; Jesse, No. 69; Peter, No. 70; Webb, No. 120; and Marvil, No. 125.
